in addition to the acetic and malic acid, apple cider vinegar also possesses a number of characteristic acids, vitamins, mineral salts and amino acids people will always demand thorough drug testing regardless of what regulations that government imposes, the only difference is how much more expensive drugs are because of heavy regulations